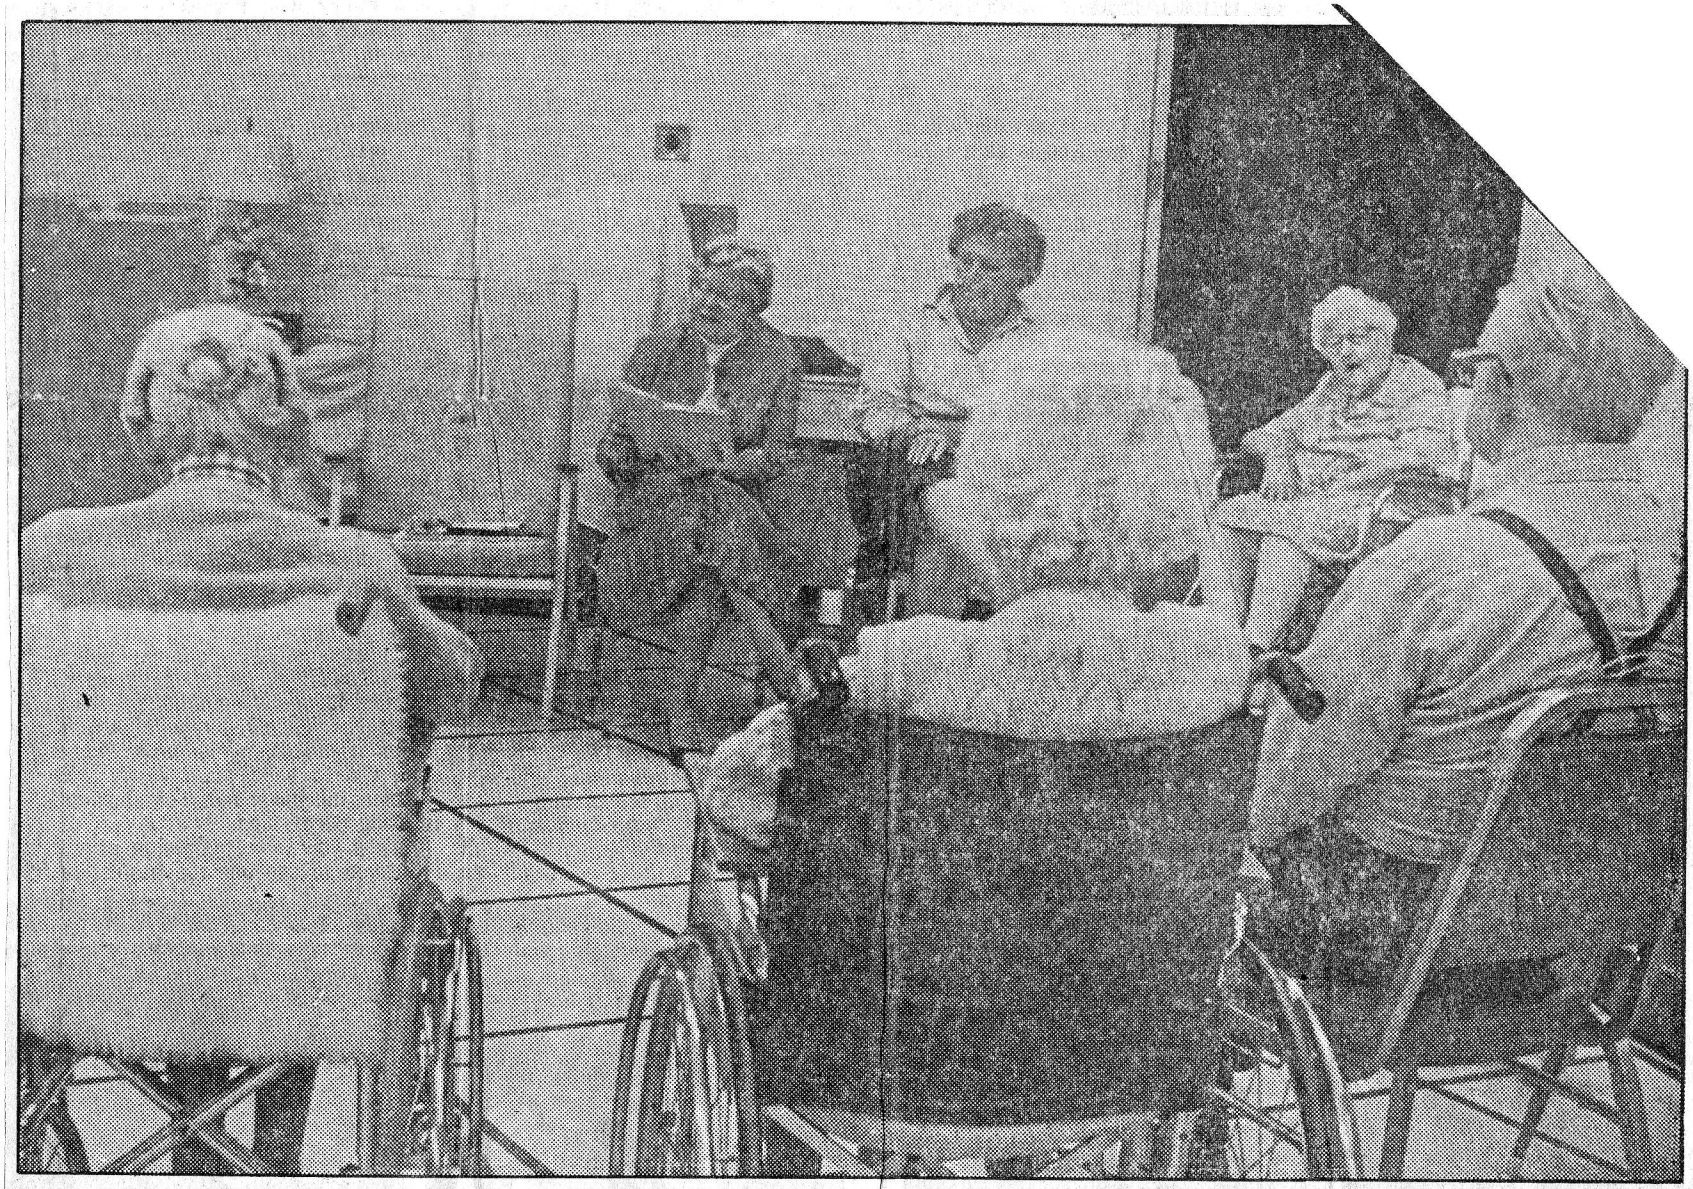
They Know the Whole Story — And Tell It



Florence Gillespie, one of the Lackawanna County Library System's volunteer storytellers shares one of her favorite books with residents at St. Mary's Villa Nursing Home, Elmhurst. Florence and another of the faithful storytellers, Jean McAuvic, alternate weeks of storytelling at St. Mary's. To the right of Florence is Joan Collins, St. Mary's activities director, who requested the services of the storytellers for the nursing home residents.